

ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A method for controlling body fat in a human or nonhuman animal includes the step of reducing lipoxxygenase activity in an animal. Lipoxxygenase activity can be reduced by reducing the enzyme activity or by lowering the enzyme level. Reduced lipoxxygenase activity correlates with reduced cell-associated LPL activity and with reduced cellular triacylglyceride level.

09871125.053101